

- Sweaty Dynasty v2 Rules

- TL/DR

- Revival Drafts: We will start with a 3-6 asset keeper/dispersal draft. Managers can keep players and/or picks, and may later draft players and/or picks in the dispersal draft. The rookie draft will follow the dispersal draft.
- Buy-In: $50/year. Partial/full due must be paid in order to trade future draft picks.
- Payouts are split into three categories: minigames/awards, yearly payout, and the empire rolling pot.
- Roster: 1 QB, 2 RB, 3 WR, 1 TE, 3 FLX, 14 bench, 3 IR, 4 Taxi
- Scoring: Modified 1 QB TEP (tight end premium). Added first down scoring and QB boosts.
- Trading: No vetoes. Conditional trades are here!
- Waivers: FAAB format. $100 in-season and $100 offseason FAAB.
- Playoffs & Toilet Bowl: 6-team playoff. 6 seed is a Points For wildcard spot. Championship side placement matchups will determine draft order. Small FAAB reward for toilet bowl 7th and 9th place winners.
- Rookie Draft Order & Tanking: True tanking is allowed. Non-playoff team draft order is determined by MAX PF. Playoff team draft order determined by placement matchups.
- Empire Scoring Format: 2 titles wins the Empire and the rolling empire pot. 1 title plus other quality finishes can also win the empire. The league will reset with a 5 asset keeper/dispersal draft.
- Important Dates: Trade Period: 6/14-6/20. Cutdown day: 6/21. Dispersal draft: 6/2-completion. Rookie draft: TBD
- Replacement Managers: If you must leave the league, please help find your replacement manager. The adopting manager will keep all accumulated empire points from that team.
- League End of Life: If managers collectively decide to end the league, the empire pot will be split among the managers, proportionate to their share of league-wide empire points.

- Revival Drafts

Welcome to Sweaty Dynasty v2! To revive the league from the dead, we will begin with a partial dispersal draft. Here's how it works:

- Each manager must select between 3 and 6 assets they wish to keep. These assets may be players or draft picks.
- To maintain competitive fairness, managers will be required send their keeper selections to the commissioner by the cutdown deadline.

- If a manager does not have their picks in at the deadline, the top three assets (as defined by current SF, TEP value on Keep Trade Cut) will be chosen.
- Every player that is not selected as a 'keeper' will then go back into a league-wide player pool.
- The league will then draft from the player pool as they would in a startup. Each manager will be able to draft any non-rookie player, including kickers, which will represent the non-kept rookie draft picks.
 - The first kicker picked will represent the first remaining (non-keeper) draft pick. If picks 1.01 through 1.08 were all selected as keeper picks by their respective managers, 1.09 would be the first available pick on the board and would be represented by the first kicker drafted.
 - The order of the draft will be determined randomly after the keeper selections have been made. This will be a linear draft.
 - Managers that keep only 3 assets will begin drafting in the 1st round. Managers that keep 4, 5, and 6 players will forego their 1st, 1st and 2nd, and 1st 2nd and 3rd round picks, respectively. As picks can't be 'cancelled' managers will be asked to select a non-relevant player (retired, defense, etc.) as a dummy pick.
- After the dispersal draft, we will do a full rookie draft based on the picks kept by managers and kickers drafted in the dispersal draft.

- Trading
- Draft Pick Trading
 - If a manager trades away a draft pick, they must pay some or all of that year's entry fee:
 - 1st Round Pick: Full buy-in
 - 2nd/3rd Round Pick: Half buy-in
 - Managers can trade for picks in the current year and the following three years
 - I.e. for league year 2025, managers can trade 2025 (current rookie draft), 2026, 2027, and 2028 picks.
 - Conditional trades
 - General Guidelines
 - Managers are encouraged to "call their shot." Use conditions to wager players, picks, or FAAB based on specific, measurable outcomes (e.g., "If Player X scores 8+ TDs this season, Team A sends a 2026 3rd-round pick to Team B").
 - All conditions must be directly tied to real-life or football outcomes or fantasy performance. They must not rely on external or subjective factors (e.g., "If I get a new job" is not a valid condition).
 - All conditional terms must be submitted to the commissioner in writing (chat, email, or league message board) at the time of the trade. Both parties must confirm the terms.

- All conditional trades must be approved by the commissioner to validate terms.
 - Asset Locking & Restrictions
 - Conditional assets (players, picks, or FAAB that are “on the line” in a trade) will remain on the original manager’s team until the condition is resolved.
 - These conditional assets are frozen. They may not be traded, dropped, or used in a separate condition until the original condition resolves.
 - Acceptable Examples
 - “If Jayden Daniels finishes as a top-12 QB this season, I send a 2026 2nd.”
 - “If Malik Nabers out-scores Jordan Addison rest-of-season (Weeks 7–17), I owe you $20 FAAB.”
 - “If I win the championship and Puka Nacua averages 20+ points per game over the playoff stretch, the 2026 2nd turns to a 2027 1st.”
 - Disputes
 - If a dispute arises over unclear or ambiguous conditions, the commissioner will resolve it based on:
 - The original written record.
 - Intent of the trade.
 - Logic and fairness.
 - Trade Deadline
 - Trades must be accepted prior to the end of the final game in week 14 (per Sleeper restrictions)
 - Vetoes
 - This is a NO VETO league. Managers are expected to manage their teams intelligently and play with integrity. If a manager is found to have colluded, they will be banned from the league and will forfeit any entry fee payments made toward subsequent years.
 - If a manager has a history of egregious - albeit non-collusive - roster transactions, they may be asked to leave the league to maintain competitive fairness.
- Waivers
 - FAAB
 - Offseason
 - Managers will be given $100 in offseason FAAB. This can be spent following the super bowl until the start of the next regular season.
 - In-Season
 - Managers will be given $100 in in-season FAAB to spend during that league year.

- Carryover
 - In-Season and Offseason FAAB do NOT carry over. Use it or lose it.
- Playoffs & Toilet Bowl
 - Format
 - Championship Bracket
 - 3 round (weeks 15-17), 6 teams
 - Placement matchups will determine draft picks (see 'Rookie Draft Order and Tanking' below)
 - Toilet Bowl
 - 2 round (weeks 15-16), 4 teams
 - 7th and 9th place winners rewarded with FAAB (see 'Rookie Draft Order and Tanking' below)
 - Seeding
 - The best two records get the first and second seeds and the two first round byes. The 3rd, 4th, and 5th best record get the 3rd, 4th, and 5th seeds, respectively. The final 6th seed goes to the remaining team with the highest PF.
 - Best record (BYE)
 - Second best record (BYE)
 - Third best record
 - Fourth best record
 - Fifth best record
 - Highest PF of remaining teams.
 - Because the 6 seed may be one of the stronger teams with worse matchup luck throughout the season, the first seed will have the option to switch bracket sides with the two seed.
- Rookie Draft Order & Tanking
 - Tanking is allowed, but barriers will be installed to prevent teams from artificially boosting their draft positions.
 - The draft order of the four non-playoff teams will be determined by Max Points For (MPF). MPF for each week can be seen in the weekly report.
 - The team with the lowest MPF will receive the 1st overall pick. The second, third, and fourth lowest will receive the second, third, and fourth overall picks, respectively.
 - To incentivize competition in the toilet bowl, small FAAB rewards will be given to the winners of placement matchups. The manager may choose whether to have the FAAB applied to the offseason or in-season budget
 - 7th Place: $50 FAAB
 - 9th Place: $25 FAAB

- The draft order of the playoff teams will be determined by the results of the placement matchups and are designed to incentivizing effort in otherwise meaningless matchups:
 - Championship Matchup
 - 1st Place: 1.10
 - 2nd Place: 1.09
 - 3rd Place Matchup
 - 3rd Place: 1.07
 - 4th Place: 1.08
 - 5th Place Matchup
 - 5th Place: 1.05
 - 6th Place: 1.06
- Empire Scoring Format
 - Point Breakdown
 - Playoff birth: 3 point
 - Semi-final birth: 5 points
 - Title game birth: 10 points
 - Champion: 20 Points
 - First manager with 2 titles OR 1 title and 50+ points wins the pot. In the event that a 2x champion is crowned in the same season as another player reaches 50 points, the 2x champion will win the 'Empire Pot'
- Important Dates
 - Trade Period: 6/16 (6:00 PM) - 6/23 (5:59 PM)
 - Cutdown Day: 6/24 (11:59 PM deadline)
 - Dispersal Draft: 6/25-completion
 - Rookie Draft: TBD
- Replacement Mangers
 - Manager responsibility
 - It is the responsibility of the manager to - if at all possible - assist with the search of a replacement manager.
 - Empire points stick with the team, not the manager
 - If a manager abandons their team at 30 points, the replacement manager will inherit the team with a full 30 points.
- League EOL
 - In the event that the managers decide to scrap the league prior to the Empire Pot being won, the total pot will be dispersed among the league members proportionate to their share of league-wide empire points.
 - Exp: There are 250 total empire points in the league. The manager in first place (45 points) would get 18% (45/250) of the pot.
